Merchant Agreement

- 1) If you receive a check that is worthless by the bank, you must first contact the check writer by mail, to demand payment of the check as well the posted service fee for handling returned checks.
- 2) Check writers must be allowed fifteen (15) days to comply by paying the full amount of the worthless check plus a service fee to cover the fees your bank charges you as a result of the check being dishonored. If the check writer fails to comply, you may immediately turn the check - and an supporting information - over to the Check Enforcement Program.
- 3) To refer a check to the Program you must complete a Check Complaint Form and attach the original check to the form and forward it within 90 days of the date of the check to the Check Enforcement Program.
- 4) Once a check has been turned over to the Program, you cannot accept payment for that check directly from the check writer. Restitution and the associated fees must be made to the Program. Any check writer who wishes to pay a check should be directed to call the Program at 1-800-298-5240.
- 5) Worthless checks may not first be submitted to a collection agency or other similar entities for collection before being submitted to the Program. However, if the Program is unsuccessful, you may wish to pursue the matter through a collection agency, small claims court or other civil action.
- 6) Restitution for worthless checks that is received will be mailed to the victim within seven days of the date it is received by the Program.
- 7) If the check writer does not comply with the requirements of the Program, he or she faces potential prosecution. If this should be the case, you will be contacted about what action you may be required to take as part of that prosecution. However, not all checks qualify for prosecution.
- 8) Once a check has been turned over to the Check Enforcement Program, you may not commence civil legal proceedings in Court without the expressed written consent of the Check Enforcement Program.
- 9) If the Program is unable to secure restitution and the check does not meet the criteria for prosecution it will be held, inactive, at the Program office unless the victim requests that it be returned. If additional checks from the check writer or subsequent new information is received the check case may be reactivated.
- 10) This agreement may be amended from time-to-time by the Prosecuting Attorney's Office and such amendments will be effective upon mailing of a notice to the merchant.
- 11) By signing and returning the attached Registration form, you acknowledge the requirements of the Program and agree to abide by them. Failure to abide by this agreement may cause a merchant's or individual's participation in the Program to be discontinued.
- 12) This information is used only by the Prosecuting Attorney's Office or its agents to managing worthless checks.
